

PRESS RELEASE

April 27, 2021

Blakeley named to ING Board of Directors.

ING's President, Mark Hall, of Post Media Group, announced today the addition of a new Board member, Mr. Gary Blakeley, CEO of PAGE Cooperative. "Gary is a welcome addition to the ING Leadership team. He joins us to support today's operations executives that represent the heart and soul of a news publishing company. ING's mission is to build upon the momentum of success – by promoting leadership, excellence, innovation, involvement and recognition in print, distribution, and our associated industries", stated Hall. Blakeley commented, "I look forward to bringing my professional experience and love for our industry to the table. ING's commitment to contribute new thinking, new ideas, and sometimes unconventional methods of finding solutions will help ensure sustainably and a return to growth, especially as we emerge from the restraints of Covid and advance into the future."

Nominations are also now open. Please nominate your Operations /Logistics AllStar.

Operations is the heart and soul of our industry. And the pros working in our operations not only understand every department's mechanics (beyond presses and equipment) they often contribute new thinking and concepts to help uncover profitability! Help us recognize these leaders by nominating a colleague today, so we can share their ideas and salute them to the global news publishing industry!

Don't wait because we will be featuring three nominees or more in E&P Magazine every month leading up to the winning All-Stars announcement during a special webinar on October 13. <https://www.editorandpublisher.com/stories/2021-operations-all-stars,189225>
